CURRENCY REFORM URGED BY BANKER

PRESIDENT ELDRIDGE OF TEXAS
BANKERS MAKES PLEA AT CONVENTION.

NEEDED SINCE THE LAST PANIC

Experts Favor National Reserve Association on Which to Base Money Circulation.

Galveston, May 13.—President H. R. Eldridge of Houston this morning called the twenty-ninth annual convention of the Texas Bankers association to order. There was a record attendance of members, and there were visitors from New York, Chicago, St. Louis, New Orleans and many other cities outside the state.

Rev. H. L. Winter, mayor of Grace Episcopal church of this city, offered the invocation. Mayor Lewis Fisher delivered the address of welcome on behalf of the city, and Fred W. Catterall, cashier of the First National Bank, welcomed the visitors on behalf of the banks of the city. The response was made by Benjamin F. Berkley of Alpine, Texas.

The annual reports of President Eldridge, Secretary J. W. Hoopes of Galveston, Treasurer Rufus Coy of Fort Worth, and of district presidents were heard.

Wives Are There.
Many bankers are here accompanied by their wives. This afternoon there will be a tea for the women at a local hotel, and tonight there will be a reception and ball at the same place.

All the banks of Galveston observed a holiday today in honor of the visiting bankers.

The convention will continue through Thursday.

In his annual report President Eldridge came out strong for currency reform. After explaining that the bank reserves of the country are constantly increasing and thus weighing down the credit machinery of the banks, he said:

"With a gold stock equal to that of any two nations of Europe, we are unable, apparently, to bring our lawmaking to see the necessity of its proper use. Ever since the panic of 1907 there has been a well recognized demand for banking and currency reform."

Gets Serious Consideration.

The best minds in the United States have given their serious consideration to the problem and the great majority have declared themselves in favor of a national reserve association, properly supervised, wherein might be held the concentrated reserves of the country and on which, coupled with the paid-in capital of such an institution and discounts representing actual commercial transactions and the movement of our products to market, all self-liquidating in their very nature, might be based an absolutely safe, scientific bank note circulation, responding readily to the needs of the country, in the increasing demand for money and the increasing when it has passed, without the usual perennial disturbance of our reserves as well as providing all the machinery for the proper founding of a market more needed than any other one for discounts.

Should Protect Gold.
"It is essential that the gold of our country, when occasion demands, be protected and an association of this character forms the most logical and only efficient instrument to that end. Banks are but manufacturers of credit. They are utilizing the same machinery as was used fifty years ago. There is no line of business employing machinery of such ancient character that can hope to compete with latter day improvements, and we certainly cannot expect our banks to compete with those of other enlightened nations until we install financial and credit machinery equally as good as theirs."

No place has been suggested, notwithstanding the prejudices which the dominant party has against anything touching of the central bank, not in the opinion of the participants in this convention, and it is not probable any will be, for it is just as essential to have a head and front to our financial system as it is to our government.

"Unless something is done, and that soon, our position, should trouble arise, would be uncomfortable, to say the least."

"Let us join hands in urging congress to give us a system that will stand the storms of the roughest seas."

PHILO LIVES AGAIN

OLDEST SOCIAL ORGANIZATION
IN WACO IS HELD TOGETHER
BY SENTIMENT.

Smoker Last Night at Which the History of the Organization Is Sketched.

Sentiment and sociability are the factors which are bringing together old and new members of the Philo club, and under the influence of both the oldest social organization in the city will be made stronger than ever and will continue to live.

Reorganization of the Philo took place within the last few weeks. "Bob" Tolson, the first president and one of the original eight members, was the moving spirit that saved the club from dissolution, but he was not alone because many of those who have been of its membership since, during the twenty-nine years of its existence, joined him. The club was about to disband because of financial affairs, but the few who were moved to the rescue by the spirit of sentiment, took it over, paid its debts and have started it again on a successful career.

At a smoker last night, R. J. Tolson, newly-elected president, who was president of the organization during the first three years of its existence, presided. He had invited a lot of the "fellows" to come up and be present at the rejuvenation of the club that can come back. President Tolson and W. W. Massey were the only ones present last night who were present also in February, 1884, when eight boys organized. There were quite a number, however, who have been members for many years since, among these being Allan D. Sanford, Allan D. Sanford, Davis Gurley, W. W. Seley, James Hays Quarles, A. H. O. Ramsey, Dr. A. A. Beville, Judge J. N. Gallagher, and a number of others. With these were a lot of youngsters who have since joined and some of whom have been active in the reorganization.

There were some speeches and some fraternal talks, but what was said was more in the nature of sentiment. Old days of the club were recalled; the club's social position was mentioned; its history was recounted, and there was a tremor in the voice when the speakers went over the days of long ago. Allan D. Sanford made the principal speech of the evening. He recited the doings of the organization nearly thirty years ago. He called up names that have slipped the memory of many old timers. He spoke of Harry H. Godber, Buford Kilgough, Dr. L. L. Taylor, Bob Banton, Bert Kinnsrd and others whose names would be strange to the newcomers in Waco, but who are remembered by their friends of boyhood days. He stated the determination that has brought about the reorganization and said that the Philo, with its history and its social position should not be allowed to give up its existence.

James Hays Quarles, whose membership in the club dated back farther than that of any of those present except R. J. Tolson and W. W. Massey, spoke of the early days of the club, became reminiscent and recounted some of the achievements of the organization. He said that upon the duty of maintaining the organization; that the original members were reaching the age when they must give up the activities of management, and the present generation of Waco's best young men must get together in strengthening the club and the older ones would give their help.

Newt E. Williams spoke of the pleasant days during which his membership in the club has existed and advised the "boys" to get together and keep it going.

W. W. Massey, one of the original eight, said he had dropped out of social life, but that he would do his part if necessary to keep the club going.

W. W. Seley, Walter Gregg, Judge J. N. Gallagher, Dr. Beville and others pledged their support. The plans of the club are to be announced later.

KATY GETS FRANCHISE

COMMISSION PASSES ORDINANCE
ALLOWING SIDE TRACK ON JACKSON STREET.

to be Extended From Ninth to Sixteenth.
No Discussion—The Vote Is Unanimous.

At the meeting of the city commission at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon an ordinance granting the privilege to the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad company to construct a side track on Jackson street from Ninth street to Sixteenth street was finally passed.

This matter has been in controversy for some time. The Katy has made several applications for permits trying to adjust the requests to suit the convenience of property owners along the street, and finally failing to agree on any one proposition withdrew all petitions. Having indicated at the meeting last week that the ordinance would be passed and instructing the city attorney to prepare it, the commission yesterday fixed an afternoon session at which to consider it.

In the meantime Judge W. E. Spell as counsel for the Katy stated to the mayor that the company would be glad to have the permission asked for in the original petition—a side track on the south side of Jackson street running from Ninth to Sixteenth streets. The ordinance had been prepared by City Attorney John Maxwell, was read under suspension of the rules and passed.

There was no discussion of the matter. The members of the commission and the mayor had made up their minds to vote the franchise and it was not necessary to discuss it. The ordinance passed by a unanimous vote.

Austin, May 13.—The railroad commission today approved the application of the International & Great Northern railroad for valuation of right of way amounting to $59,163. ## MAYOR REFUSES A PERMIT

Man Who Wants to Solicit Funds Is Denied Permission By the City.

On a recommendation by Police Commissioner John Dolins that it be not granted, the mayor yesterday declined to grant a permit to a man who wanted to solicit funds in Waco for use in caring for orphans.

The applicant stated to the mayor that he lives in West Texas, that he is engaged in finding homes for orphans and that he wanted to solicit for that purpose. The mayor asked where his orphanage was located and it developed that he has an orphanage but that he gets up children where he finds them and looks for homes for them. The mayor did not look with favor on the proposition, but referred it to Commissioner Dolins and the official opposed the permit and it was not granted.

The applicant took his departure saying he did not expect to get more than $6 or $8 here anyhow and that he did not suppose it mattered.

FIGHTING ON TARIFF

SENATORS SIMMONS AND PENROSE ARGUE OVER PUBLIC HEARINGS.

Brislow Offers Amendment to Sugar Schedule—La Follette Also Has an Idea.

Washington, May 12.—Senator Simmons, chairman of the finance committee, and Senator Penrose, leading the republican fight to refer the Underwood bill to instructions for public hearings, delivered oratorical broadsides against each other in the senate today in debate on the Penrose amendment, which will be resumed tomorrow.

Senator Penrose likened the secret caucus of the tariff bill to the "methods of the Spanish inquisition," and brought laughter from both sides when he described the caucus and declared no one was present to witness "the murder of American industry."

Senator Simmons declared if the democratic purpose to eliminate public hearings could be held reprehensible, it was the first time the democratic party had copied the methods of the republicans and he argued at length why public hearings were not necessary, averring that they were not even demanded.

Attitude on Lumber. During the debate, Senator Penrose referred to Senator Simmons' attitude on the lumber schedule four years ago, when the Payne-Aldrich bill was under consideration.

Senator Simmons answered that the Underwood bill provided for everything he advocated four years ago, and that he was to be paid on the free list.

"That being so," he said, "I will vote with pleasure for free lumber."

Senator Brislow offered an amendment to the sugar schedule providing for graduated reductions for two three-year periods, at the end of which refined sugar would be taxed at 1.57 cents per hundred pounds and "40-cent Cuban sugar at 97c."

When the Kansas senator had concluded an attack on the democratic bill, Senator La Follette proposed an amendment to the Penrose amendment directing public hearings.

Senator Bacon then moved that the senate go into executive session. This was objected to, but prevailed, 46 to 34. Senators La Follette and Works voting with the democratic side.

This forced further consideration of the tariff over until tomorrow, when answers were given.

Senator La Follette's amendment, which was accepted by Senator Penrose, provides that manufacturers who might appear or file briefs before the finance committee, be required to answer under oath sixteen questions relating to the commodity they manufacture, the raw materials used; the amount of production and consumption of the commodity in this country; the number of concerns engaged in its manufacture and their identity; the market price in this and competing countries; percentage of labor cost here and abroad; transportation cost to principal markets here and abroad; what part of the existing tariff duty represents difference in cost of production here and abroad, and what part of the tariff duty represents profits of the American manufacturer.

NAVAL PLANS STOLN

bers of the families of officials and clerks and no one was admitted without a pass. The plans were ordinary blueprints, lying on the drafting table, but were large enough to make quite a conspicuous roll.

Other Plans Missed. The fact that other plans for electrical wiring were missed after the fourth of March, tended to relieve the visitors from suspicion, and as this was the last occasion upon which the rooms were opened to others than employees, the investigation turned in their direction.

The plans were simple and such as could be prepared to order by any competent electrician. They did not relate to the fire control or turret mechanism therefore had no particular naval value.

The officials, however, were alarmed at the occurrence because it disclosed the possibility of the theft of really important secret plans.

Extra precautions have been taken to guard against the entry into the drafting rooms of anyone who does not belong there and a system of checking and accounting will be rigidly enforced.

TEXAS K. OF P. AT CORPUS

328 Lodges Are Represented With a Total Attendance of 1160 Members.

Corpus Christi, May 12.—The first session of the Grand Lodge Knights of Pythias of Texas convened here this morning for a three days' session. The credentials committee reported that 328 subordinate lodges of Texas were represented. The total attendance is stated at 1,160. The Pythian Sisters also are in session, with 65 lodges represented.

The morning session was devoted to the hearing of reports of officers and committees. Grand Keeper of Records Henry Miller of Weatherford reported 347 lodges in Texas, with a total membership of 34,918.

Proceeding the session an open meeting was held, at which Mayor Muller, W. E. Pope and Mrs. R. H. Stephens of Corpus, made welcoming addresses. Responses were made by Charles W. Wainard of Dallas, George M. Briggs of Houston and Mrs. R. H. Smith of Fort Worth.

Tom Connolly of Martin will be the next grand chancellor, succeeding Charles F. Wainard of Dallas. Henry Miller of Weatherford is reported to be holding a position he has held 10 years.

PARADE HAS A BIG CARNIVAL

Parade Includes Many Beautiful and Gaily Features—Many Visitors Are Present.

Itasca, May 12.—This city scored another industrial success in its May carnival, putting on a spectacular parade of young beauty and mercantile progressiveness that is seldom equalled by towns many times its size.

Twenty-four young ladies contested for the honor of being Queen of the May and these formed an escort for the queen, Miss Elaine Scottward, who was crowned in the presence of a crowd estimated at 4000 persons. Then, preceded by the Burney Military academy cadets, the queen and her twenty-three maids of honor led a march through the principal streets.

The Itasca Volunteer Fire department was next in line, with the devotion first prizes in the parades of the World following.

Then came twenty-five floats and decorated automobiles, representing the leading business interests of the city. All of the floats were attractive and splendidly designed—many of them were works of art, embodying special designs of artists whose floats have won first prizes in the parades of the larger cities.

Visitors expressed astonishment at the amount of money used and the good taste displayed in the displays.

Other features were a baby show, a contest for rifle shooters over 40 years old, fancy work for old ladies and the oldest couple present, all of which carried adequate prizes.

In the baby show there were seven entries, ten girls and seven boys. Two of the couples entering in the old couple contest were very old, well past the three score and ten mark. They were J. L. Burgess and wife and L. Gentry and wife. Both are old settlers in the community.

There were also seventeen entries in the rifle shoot and excellent scores were made. Much fancy work also was on display.

BARS MEN WILSON NAMED

ing technical knowledge or scientific attainments should not be given as political rewards, but that qualifications and experience should be the only yard stick.

While no charges have been made against Mr. Harris, the Republicans claimed he was not so well qualified by experience, at least, to hold the office as was Mr. Durand.

Mr. Harris was chairman of the Democratic state executive committee of Georgia, in the last campaign, and is known as an original Wilson man.

His appointment was one of the early important ones sent in by President Wilson.

Republicans on the census committee served notice almost immediately after the appointment that they expected to fight his confirmation.

Efforts were made by Democrats, who wished to smooth out the difficulties, to get Mr. Durand's name in office until July 1, but at a meeting of the committee ten days ago the nomination was ordered reported by a majority vote, Senator Townsend, the only Republican present, voting against it, and throwing down the gauge of battle for the minority side.

Not in Many Years. The fight today began immediately after the executive session was ordered, at the request of Senator Bacon.

Such persistent opposition to any one presidential nomination has not been manifested in the senate for many years.

Hundreds of former President Taft's appointments were held up during the closing days of the last session, but attacks were not directed toward any individual nomination and at no time did the senate spend so many hours behind closed doors in the discussion of such appointments.

The last long struggle over a nomination recalled by senators tonight was that over the appointment of Leonard Wood, then major general and chief of staff of the army when he was jumped to the ranks of brigadier general over the heads of scores of men who had served many years longer than he in the army.

General Wood finally was confirmed after the senate chamber had been flooded with oratory against him and in his support.

JOHN E. WILKIE IS TO RESIGN

Former Secret Service Chief Quits Place in the Customs Department.

Washington, May 12.—John E. Wilkie, supervising officer of the customs service and four years superintendent of the United States secret service, will resign shortly, it was learned in official quarters today. Mr. Wilkie will retire voluntarily to accept a commercial position in Chicago. His successor has not yet been chosen.

Mr. Wilkie was in Boston today in connection with the grand jury investigation of alleged frauds in the importation of women's gowns.

It is not expected he will retire until Secretary McAdoo has chosen his successor.

Control — Reliability — Speed

CONTROL.

The clutch on the Excelsior is operated by means of positive steel rods and forged connections applied to the left-hand grip and is firmly locked in or out of gear by simply turning grip over center either way. The throttle and valve lift are attached to the right-hand grip. By this method the rider always has his machine as it is unnecessary to release his grip on handle bars to operate either clutch or throttle. The clutch may be instantly graduated to any degree of tension required by a simple twist of the wrist.

RELIABILITY.

In 1910 the Chicago police purchased their first Excelsior Twin. This machine was run by Officer Weber for over 32,000 miles before the motor was taken down, and then only for inspection. This same motor is still doing its 75 miles average per day in police service.

TO HEAD SOUTHERN BAPTISTS

St. Louis, May 12.—At the opening session of the Southern Baptist convention tomorrow, according to the plans of leading members, Dr. Edwin Charles Dargan of Macon, Ga., will be re-elected president for the third annual term. Dr. Lansing Burrows of Americus, Ga., the venerable secretary who has served for the last thirty-five years, will be re-elected, as will Dr. O. F. Gregory of Staunton, Va., who also has been secretary a number of years.

The next convention city in all probability will be Nashville. The convention has no set program this year, on account of a complaint by the more progressive element that a certain series of older men has appeared in the program from year to year without giving the younger men an opportunity to be heard.

The amount of money raised for foreign home and state missions last year by the convention was $1,470,000. One of the slogans of the present convention will be $5,000,000 a year for missionary work.

Only $15,000 was expended last year for missionary work among the negroes of the south. A movement is being pushed by Dr. V. I. Masters of Atlanta, Ga., educational secretary of the home missions board, to increase this expenditure largely. Education work will be pushed among the southern negroes to the extent of educating Baptist negro pitchers.

The Woman's Missionary Union will begin its sessions tomorrow with the consideration of home missionary reports and with reports from state workers.

Miss Fannie E. S. Heck of Raleigh, N. C., president, will preside. The secretary is Miss Kathleen Mallory of Baltimore.

Of the $1,470,000 raised for missionary purposes by the convention last year, one-third was contributed by the women through their missionary union.
